

ECED 231- Infant & Toddler Care: Course Outcomes

To demonstrate infant and toddler teaching strategies to strengthen the overall development of the young child.

To examine procedures in observing and recording and infant/ toddler activity to determine how to best meet the needs of the child.

To identify experiences that affect the emotional wellbeing of the young child in order to enhance positive self-esteem.

To identify the EEC regulations that influence the set---up and running of an infant/toddler center in order to provide a quality program.

To recognize and be able to respond to separation anxiety in order to assist the parent and child to cope with this difficult process.

To discuss the process of attachment in order to assist the child in developing trusting relationships with parents and caregiver.