

ECED111- Early Childhood Curriculum: A Multicultural Perspective: Course Outcomes

1. Design developmentally appropriate, standards-based curriculum that promotes young children's learning and development across domains.
2. To promote play experiences, materials and spaces that encourage individual growth and opportunities for group learning.
3. To implement the "Guidelines for Preschool Learning Experiences" in order to plan and evaluate curriculum for the group and individual children
4. To develop effective techniques for designing and implementing developmentally appropriate lesson plans in the areas of language, math, science, creative art, music/movement, and nutrition/safety by utilizing the "Guidelines for Preschool Learning Experiences"
5. Use a range of strategies, such as reflective practice, family engagement, and data analysis, to improve and adapt curriculum.
6. Explain the teacher's role in planning, implementing, and evaluating both teacher-directed and child-directed activities and environments.

7. To design activities and themes that reflect an anti-bias framework including cultural and gender diversity so that children develop understanding and appreciation of themselves and others
