

ECED211-Child Care Policies and Issues: Course Outcomes

- To explore the early history of the early education movement in order to understand the present early childhood system.
- To examine the role of early education in order to provide the best possible educational outcomes for young children
- To identify the laws and regulations governing early childhood in Massachusetts in order to offer a program that meets necessary state requirements.
- To recognize and respond to the various social trends as they relate to early childhood in order to adequately support children and families.

- To discuss the various educational trends as they relate to early childhood in order to offer developmentally appropriate experiences to children.
- To review and evaluate public policy in regards to early childhood to advocate for children, families, and early childhood professionals